

Air-Con Servicing

Last Updated Tuesday, 09 February 2010

B for BMW are pleased to inform you that we are now able to service and check your Air Conditioning. BMW recommends that this is serviced every two years.

There has been new legislation regarding the servicing of aircon requiring anyone carrying out the procedure to be certificated. We are now fully trained and compliant the new F-Gas legislation and have purchased a fully automatic machine which features are:

- Identify existing charge
- Identifying gas quality
- Reclaim of existing gas
- Purify
- Purge full system
- Leak test
- Add dye for future leak detection
- Replenish oil
- Fully recharge system

As you can see we are able to give your aircon a very thorough service and are sure you will note a significant difference. This machine is fully automatic and we suggest getting you air con serviced in conjunction with your normal servicing as this can be done at the same time.
